

JOSÉ DIÓGENES SÁNCHEZ CASTILLO

Mr. José Diógenes graduate with a Bachelor's Degree in Finance and Banking from the Faculty of Economics of the University of Panama. He also has a Law and Political Science degree from the University of Panama, with the suitability to practice law in the Republic. In addition to participating in workshops such as The Management of Sovereign Assets and Liabilities, Government Debt Management Strategies, dictated by the World Bank, and Diploma in Public-Private Association, issued by CAF, among others.

Mr. José Diógenes has more than 10 years of experience in the international stock and banking market. He started in the Investment Department of Profuturo, Administrator of Private Pension and Unemployment Funds, where he analyzed and monitored investments, cash flows, and valuations of the instruments to be incorporated into the investment portfolios of the different investment funds among other functions.

He moved to Banco de Bogota, Panama (International Bank), where he joined the Bank's Brokerage House team which was in charge of running the brokerage house, executing buy/sale orders for the clients of the brokerage house, account opening, registration, reconciliation and monitoring of income and expenses of the brokerage house, reconciliation of client accounts with custodians, communication, monitoring and execution of corporate actions on behalf of clients, communication, and relationship with counterparties, custodians, correspondents banks, mutual funds, among others.

José Diógenes joined the Ministry of Economy and Finance at the beginning of 2017. Initially as a Financial Analyst in the Credit Resources Management Department, carrying out complementary analyses of the Republic loans with multilateral and bilateral Agencies, and having an active participation in the issuance of Global Bonds, among others. In 2019, he moved to the Capital Market Section, in charge of the issuance of Bills, Notes, and Treasury Bonds, among others.

Currently performing as Head of the Capital Markets Section.